FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 17, 1860.

In a few days a party, which has been held together and maintained in all its changes only by a prejudice against the Democracy, will hold a convention for the purpose of again setting forth what they call a platform. That will be a very resemblance to the one adopted at their last meeting, is not to be expected. A set of principles with our friends of the Opposition can not outlast one canvass. We may anticipate, however, that they will declare the immediate necessity of a slave code, and, at the same time, avow themselves in favor of the Union. They will declare for what they call their rights in the Union. It is to be hoped that they will bear in mind, however, that they propose to exercise a doubtful power which, when exercised, will result in the exclusion of the South from their rights in the Territories. Now, if the South is entitled to protection, by the legislation of Congress upon the subject within the Territories, and the North refuses to grant a constitutional right to her, we think it is clear that the ends for which the Union was established are not carried out, and so far from being a benefit, it is a positive injury. A peaceable dissolution and an equitable division of the property belonging to the States should be made. These will be the opinions of those who candidly hold to the belief in the power of Congress on the subject, and the necessity of an immediate exercise of it.

They are not in very serious earnest, however, upon the subject, and whatever resolutions their hostility to Democracy may induce them to pass, we must regard it simply as the innocent amusement of a number of clever gentlemen who are slightly touched upon this one subject. We see no particular harm to result from their action, and if they wish to play at holding conventions, we know of no set of men who can do with less profit or injury to themselves or the country at large. There were some oversights made in their last platform—that "ponderous indictment" which no body regarded in the canvass. We trust they will not omit to declare, by way of a preamble, that they are the elite of Kentucky. This will prevent mistakes, and save a great deal of ink and paper, inasmuch as it devolves upon the Opposition press to do it, and they repeat the statement with a persistence which shows their own double upon the subject. We will also indulge in the pleasure hope that they will signify in their platform their intention to come down to the level of the common people. It will be beneficial to them to come down to such a level.

We desire to see, if compatible with the interests of the party, the usual declaration of their hostility to foreign papists and criminals, because it is feared, unless this is done, that some one will take up the impression that they are in favor of foreign papists and criminals, which should be avoided.

If consistent with their advantage, it would also be as well to make a few remarks, say about two columns of the Journal, upon extangage, and to wind up with a tirade against the "certain Democracy." But whatever else may be inserted, we wish to impress upon them the duty, and we urge it as a serious duty, to remember how Kirby died. Is the emphatic language of a Bowery boy, "He wrapped himself in the American flag and died like a son of a gun." This is an excellent suggestion. There must be much Star Spangled Banner and Union. A few allusions to the "Fathers of the Republic" might also be introduced with good effect, if the scenery and properties could be made appropriate. If they will adopt some such outline as this, and draw it rather well when they allude to Black Republicans, we have no doubt the Opposition press will receive it with decided marks of approbation. Indeed, we may expect the Journal to declare the silent manifesto indictment platform that the mind of man ever conceived, or the pen of man ever wrote. Of course his able contemporaries of the same party will coincide with this, and there will be a great deal of innocent enjoyment until after the defeat of the Black Republicans by the Democratic party, which is all our Opposition are interested in.

Personal.

—Wm. Gilmore Simms, the South Carolina novelist, has written a patriotic letter declining, on account of ill health, to address the populace on the inauguration of Clark Mills' equestrian statue of Washington. The invitation will now be given to Charles Evans, Esq., ex-Minister to Venezuela, or to Hon. Thomas S. Bocock, of the U. S. House of Representatives.

—Mr. A. H. Reeder, at one time Governor of Kansas, has been solicited by somebody from Mauch Chunk, Pa., to be a candidate for Governor before the Black Republican convention.

Mr. Reeder wrote a letter in reply to the effect that he had rather decline, but that he nevertheless "recognizes the full obligation resting upon every man to sacrifice personal considerations to any reasonable extent, when called on by his party to become a candidate."

The New York Times is uneasy because a Mr. Edmonson, of Virginia, switched Hickman with a twig, for reflections upon the courage of the people of the Old Dominion. We disapprove of such a course, but certainly the Virginian gave Mr. Hickman an excellent opportunity to prove the cowardice he asserted, if he dared to "try it."

—The Hartford (Conn.) Post, with great apopse, directs attention to the notorious fact that Abolition and Infidelity are born companions. The leaders of Abolition—Parker, Garrison, Phillips, Pillsbury, and the entire batch of fanatic—say God, and would fraternize with the nigger.

—Chevalier Webb announces that if Crittenden, Bell or Bates should be the Black Republican nominee, that he intends to bolt; that he is for "Seward, 'sext, last and always."

What a break into the fabric of niggery—a whole bolt of it, the most valuable Webb.

—The franking privilege is not abolished, and the members of Congress are still a nubbed feather dust specks before their constituents, which have never been spoken in the House. How fortunate that the law does not compel them to be read.

A Livingston county correspondent avers that Douglas is the favorite candidate for the Presidency of the Democracy of that section, as well as for a portion of the Opposition. True, undoubtedly.

—The young lady who was taken out the young man, with such a loss of a moustache, was afterwards taken in by him.—Exchange.

—And the consequence was, a little shade.

The New Mexican Treaty.
A telegraphic synopsis of the New Mexican treaty has been published, but the special telegraphic correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette affords some further particulars of interest. The fifth article virtually gives the United States a protectorate over the transit routes.

The Republic of Mexico agrees that should it become necessary at any time to employ military force for the security and protection of persons and property passing over any of the routes aforesaid, it will employ the respective force for that purpose; but upon a failure to do this, from any cause whatever, the Government of the United States may, with the consent or at the request of the Government of Mexico, or of the Minister thereof at Washington, or of the competent, legally appointed local authorities, civil or military, employ such force for this and for no other purpose, and when, in the opinion of the Government of Mexico, the necessity ceases, such force shall be immediately withdrawn. In the exceptional case, however, of unforeseen or imminent danger to the lives or property of the citizens of the United States, the forces of said Republic are authorized to act for their protection without such consent having previously been obtained, and such forces shall be withdrawn when the necessity for this employment ceases.

Articles fifth, sixth and seventh give the United States the right of way across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, and from Camargo or Matamoras to Mazatlan.

The other stipulations accord with the system. The following is the first of the conventional articles for the enforcement of these stipulations: If any of the stipulations of the existing treaties between Mexico and the United States are violated, or the safety and security of the citizens of either Republic are endangered within the territory of the other, and the legitimate and acknowledged government thereof may be unable, from any cause, to enforce such stipulations, or to provide for such safety and security, it shall be obligatory on that government to seek the aid of the other in maintaining their due execution, as well as order and security in the territory of the Republic where such violation and disorder occur; and in every such special case, the expenses shall be paid by the treasury of the nation within whose territory such intervention may become necessary; and if disorder shall occur on the frontier of the two Republics, the authorities of the two Republics resort to the place where disorder exists, shall act in concert and co-operation for the arrest and punishment of the criminals who have disturbed the public order of either Republic, and in every such special case, the expenses shall be paid by the treasury of the nation within whose territory such intervention may become necessary; and if disorder shall occur on the frontier of the two Republics, the authorities of the two Republics resort to the place where disorder exists, shall act in concert and co-operation for the arrest and punishment of the criminals who have disturbed the public order of either Republic, and for this purpose the parties guilty of these offenses may be arrested within either Republic, and delivered over to the authorities of Republic within which the crime may have been committed.

The nature and character of such intervention, as well as the expenses thereof, and the manner of arresting and subjecting to punishment the said criminals, shall be determined and regulated by an agreement between the Executive branches of the two governments.

The Mails Delay.

We learn that the Postmaster General has ordered the Eastern mail and the mail from Cincinnati, to come hereafter via Mitchell and New Albany, Indiana, instead of via Seymour and Jeffersonville to the Louisville distributing office as heretofore. By this route the mail is taken forty miles beyond Seymour to Mitchell at the junction of the Ohio & Mississippi and New Albany & Chicago railroads, and from thence to New Albany sixty-five miles, while from Seymour to Jeffersonville it is only forty miles.

The mail is taken up, and carried over to a growing bridge across the Mississippi river at Clinton, Iowa, is completed, and carried over to the mail on the 28th of January. It is to be expected that the arrival of the mail will be delayed over a period of time.

The correspondents have started a gossiping rumor respecting a niece of Major Wood. She is to follow the example of Miss Bartlett, and will soon be led to the altar by a man of her own choice.

For being present at the late Price and Kelly prize-fight, Morrissey, the New York "rough," was fined, by a Buffalo justice, $300, which he paid, and $600 more for some friends who were similarly treated.

A political paper created an affray between two school boys at Ridlon, Mo., which resulted in the death of one from a kick that broke in his side.

A male child was born in Sandusky, Mass., last week, healthy and well formed, a compacted pair of soft, silvery white hairs, stretching from ear to ear. The child is now five weeks old, bright and lively, with a growing beard.

BUSINESS AFFAIRS.

FORUM.—Guthrie & Brothers received to day, by express, a lot of plain and figured poplins and satin lustres, to which they invited the ladies' special attention. This is the first arrival of fine dress goods for the spring, and they will be examined with interest. Call at 115 Fourth street, east side.

P. W. RAMSEY, on Third street, is one of the best watch-makers in our city. If you have a fine watch or clock out of order, take it to him for repairs. He has a great variety of watches, jewelry, clocks, silverware and fine spectacles, which he is selling very cheap.

AT a time when there is great fear that the stock of dry lumber, sash, doors, blinds &c., will fall short, owing to the vast amount of improvements in Louisville, it will be interesting to the public to know that Alexander, Ellis & Co., have enlarged their factory and have now on hand several million of dry lumber. Call at their office on Main street, nearly opposite the Galt House, or at their factory on Fulton, above Preston street.

J. N. Collins sells the best of coal at his office, Third street, between Market and Jefferson. Give him your orders. dit

THE great clothing house of J. M. Armstrong, on Main street, opposite the National Hotel, is now being replenished with an elegant stock of men and boys' clothing for the present season. His stock is well assortured. Those in want of any garments for either men's, youth's or children's wear, will do well to call at Armstrong's.

TRUNKS.—Among the places worthy of the attention of the visitors to Louisville at the present time, is the great trunk manufactory and emporium of J. H. McCleary, on the northeast corner of Fourth and Main streets. His large manufactory enables him to supply trunks, valises, bonnet and hat boxes, carpet bags, bureaus trunks, etc., of the very best quality, at unprecedented low prices. All of Mr. McCleary's work is beautiful as well as durable goods. Give him a call.

Look to Your Interests.

THE people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equalled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet-bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hare.

His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage.

Hundreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dollars weekly disbursed. As a master of shome pride, and to observe economy, purchasers will consult their best interests in purchasing Mr. O'Hare.

HOO SKIRTS.—John M. Robinson & Co. are now manufacturing a large stock for the Spring trade. Their skirts have attained great popularity, as they use only the very best tempered watch spring steel, and each hoop is fastened to the tapes by means of a screw loop instead of the ordinary clasp. Thus effectively preventing the annoyance of the tapes being constantly cut. Their skirts can be had at all the retail houses throughout the South and West. Sold only at wholesale.

UNHEALTHY BREAD.—In an article of food should more cautions be exercised than the "staff of life"—bread. In order to have it healthy and nutritious, good flour and pure yeast are necessary. Hurley's Quick Yeast is the best article in use, and in using it there is no fear of swallowing a dyspepsy with your breakfast. dkwlm

We have just learned that McLean's STRENGTHENING CORIAND will cure the various diseases prevalent among children. It is necessary every parent should keep a supply on hand, and when required give as directed. Try it—it is pleasant to take. See advertisement in another column. Sold here by all druggists.
